Over the River and Through the Woods

What's a guy to do when he's been offered his dream job but it's across the country and his grandparents are determined to do whatever it takes to keep him home?

In Beaver Creek Community Theatre's production of Over the River and Through the Woods that is exactly the dilemma Nick, a single, Italian-American guy from New Jersey faces.

His two sets of grandparents, who have enjoyed their weekly Sunday dinners with Nick, feel betrayed by the news that he may be moving and hatch a series of schemes to keep him home, including bringing a lovely, single lady to dinner as bait. Does it work?

The answer can be found February 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, & 10, 2008 at the Beaver Creek Community Theatre located at 3868 Dayton-Xenia Road.

The Joe DiPietro comedy, which is full of one-liners about life, love, laughter and lasagna, is directed by Al Guido. The cast includes Kelly Bennington, Joan Harrah, Jon Hung, Jim Lockwood, Terry Lupp, and David Williamson.

The crew includes Lori Ingerman as assistant director, Matt Milisits as lighting director, Dennis Burnsides as the set designer, Cheryl Mahoney as the stage manager and Dana Kragick as the producer.

Show times are 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and 3 p.m. on Sundays. Tickets are $12 for adults and $11 for BCT members, students, and senior citizens. A group discount of $1 per ticket is available to groups of 10 or more purchased at the same time for the same performance.
